DEDICATION

To the students at C.H.S., Mr. Bouchard is "the man." Whether he is teaching Ninth Grade Humanities, A.P.History, or World History, we always know we can count on his sense of humor and enthusiasm for history to help us along. Each fall he takes all the ninth graders to Camp Marist as part of an orientation program organized through the guidance department. Even after a student is no longer in his class, Mr. Bouchard always has a friendly hello and question when he passes us in the hall. We appreciate all of his hard work.

We'd like to honor Mrs. Mercurio for her enthusiasm and support of the members of the class of 1996. Without a doubt, "Mrs. Mercurio proved her dedication to our class time and again. She was always behind the scenes at a pep rally or semi-formal making sure that nothing went wrong and that everything was perfect." Whether it was making phone calls or selling food at the dances, Mrs. Mercurio always wore a smile and tried to help us. We will always remember her.

Because of his love of the theater, music, and travel, Mr. Reade has offered a special perspective to the teaching of English at C.H.S. Throughout his teaching he has inspired us to appreciate literature and learning. We all agree, "He is a good teacher with a great personality." With his infinite patience and willingness to treat each student as an individual, Mr. Reade will be missed by us and the entire high school community.

"Be what you is, 'cause if you be what you ain't, then you ain't what you is."

These days are soon to be distant hlurs of my past that will abide in memory for time is fading fast.My home in Harvard Square where fat Dorris has her way & T-times were um . . . bizarre. Where's my title? Whoever, nobody, I dunno,OK.So my life is like a story only to be written once with the weaknesses and glory of each remembrance.I write each chapter as I go, unsure of a theme or end,with a fear of what I do not know,yet to learn-anticipation.Certain teachers, journeys stirred a need in my soul to dry the tears of our children and ease the ills of a sick world.So as I come and I depart,the stars beckon and shine for loves kept in heart and dreams yet to be mine.Friends strong and true that time will never deny.They will last for life,to all the rest-goodbye.To the Lehrs-I love you. Mom, Dad-so much I can say but please know wherever I travel I will never be far away.

I REMEMBER YOUR WALKING STEPS

Your first walking steps, with your arms stretched towards me,
I embraced you with such delight, of your new accomplishment.

In Childhood.... you walked beside me, holding my hand, with such pride.

Adolescence came.... and you seemed to walk so fast ahead of me,
As I ran to catch up with you your walking became even faster,
We both tripped so very often during that time,
Me, with my over-protectiveness toward you, and you, in such a hurry for your own independence.

Once again,
we are walking together holding hands,

Only....
I must release my hand from yours, and let you go.
I'll wave goodbye to yesterday, knowing today
you are saying "Hello".

As I watch you walk away into Adulthood, with your head held high,
your arms stretched out to embrace....
Your Own Life.

I Love You
Mom
